The Offshore Infrastructure Regulator

Leadership matters

- Leadership has a role to define the standard early.
- Workers need to know who is responsible and how to escalate concerns.
- In the early project stages, ask the questions:
  - Can you design human error out?
  - Can your systems tolerate mistakes — or better yet, prevent them?
  - Can safety be embedded into your infrastructure, your operations, and your contracts?

What's required now?

While Australia's offshore wind industry is still in its infancy, we have an opportunity to get the fundamentals right now.
